*Mike Michalak
To be the 30th inductee into the
NCCFFF Fly Fishing Hall of Fame*

On Saturday evening March 20, 2010 the NCCFFF will formally induct Mr. Mike Michalak into the Fly Fishing Hall of Fame.

Mike Michalak, the owner of The Fly Shop, is a 4th generation Californian who has successfully transformed his passion for the outdoors into an avocation and an unusual lifestyle while serving as a model for businessmen in the recreation industry. At the same time he has served as an ambassador for both local and international fly fishing and parlayed his success into a vehicle for supporting and helping sponsor a number of environmental groups and causes.

Mike was the founding president of (Humboldt County) North Coast Fly Fishers. He served for a number of years on the Board of Directors of the Sacramento River Preservation Trust, and has been a Board Director of the Shasta Cascade Wonderland Association for more than a decade.

His company has practiced a balanced promotion of local and international angling resources with a steadfast commitment to the catch-and-release ethic and endorsement of the wild trout concept

On a personal level Mike and his wife, Bertha, have worked hand-in-hand with DF&G, the US Fish & Wildlife, a team of environmental experts, fisheries biologists and wetland specialists to transform their own Antelope Creek Ranch into one of the most ambitious private stream, meadow, wetland restoration and enhancement projects in this part of California.

Please join us as we celebrate Mike's induction into the NCCFFF Hall of Fame!
